

Andreas Bruno Lombardozzi was born in South Africa, where he studied for degrees in Commerce, Law and Economics while travelling extensively across Africa, Europe and the Pacific. Prime topics of his earlier academic work included a thesis on regional economic integration with specific reference to developing countries, as well as economic modelling for integration of rural communities into modern economic structures. A founding partner of African Pacific, he has spent the past 7 years based in Australia focusing on the practical application of his academic work and remains passionate about creating an “Organic Economy” – A Society of Ethical Exchange, based on Social and Distributive Justice.

Email: andreas@africanpacific.com

Web: <http://www.africanpacific.com>

*“Why you should care about Body Care” Body Care Issues - OTACnet
( Organic Traders and Consumers Network) Sydney November 2005*